The complaint alleges that her land has been damaged by the company's overfishing it. Six hundred dollars is the amount sought and the case is returnable to the superior court in New London county on the first Tuesday in June. It is alleged by the complainant that the company has within six years increased the height of the dam in this city by the use of flashboards so that the water was caused to flow back over her land and thereby damaging same. Papers in the case were served Friday morning.

Appropriations Committee and Others Inspect State Agricultural College.

There was a gathering of representative men of the state at the Connecticut Agricultural college Friday, when a visit of the appropriations committee and other members of the general assembly was made to the institution.

Sixteen automobiles were required to transport the visitors and the Willimantic men who accompanied them to the college.

Ex-Senator Charles A. Gates, Representative D. P. Dunn and Representative Gifford Smith were on hand and welcomed the visitors and with the aid of E. P. Chesbro the legislators were assigned to cars and started for Storrs.

In all there were sixty visitors from out of town and with those from this city and Mansfield who joined the party at the college there were seventy present when dinner was served in the college dining hall.

As soon as the entire party had reached the college they were taken over the buildings and around the farm and shown the many interesting agricultural experiments being conducted there. The students of the college, who are members of the military company, which is under the direction of the United States government, were called out, with the band, and gave an interesting drill for the benefit of the visitors. The company made a fine appearance.

Before the visitors sat down to dinner at 12 o'clock they had been shown all the points of interest excepting the dairy and poultry departments, and these were visited in the afternoon.

After dinner about a dozen of the visitors returned here and took the 3 o'clock train for Storrs and the majority of the others left on the 4:07 express. All expressed themselves as well pleased with the institution.

Representative Gifford Smith, with Senator Blackwelder, senate chairman, and Representative Chamberlain, house chairman, and other members of the appropriations committee, left the college early, coming to this city and visiting St. Joseph's hospital.

Donnybrook Being Worked Out.
Donnybrook, the station, that will race County Beater at the Horseshoe Park track, the proceeds to go to St. Joseph's hospital, is being worked out in 2.50 that is considered good time at this season of the year for a three mile track. The fast stoppers at the famed mile course at Readville are not doing much better, as the best time there so far is only 2.25, which would not be a bit better than Donnybrook's time on the local two-lap oval.

Driver Clytus Martin is becoming more and more enthusiastic over the possibilities of the much talked of race and is not backward in saying that he will turn all corners of the course with Donnybrook at such a fast clip as to make horsemen in this section of the county sit up and take notice.

County Beater, owned by John Curran, has many admirers, but L. N. Dondore's horse is beginning to cause comment even in some of County Beater's former strongholds.
